

The sale of autographs and photographs with the stars at Comic-Con Prague 2020 has begun!

Prague, November 18, 2019 - Comic-Con Prague pop culture festival has begun the sale of autographs and photographs with stars on its online shop. This gives you the unique opportunity to acquire rare signatures from actors and actresses. Comic book creators, writers, and other famous personalities will also be signing autographs on the premises for free.

“Active young people appreciate unique experiences and events the most. Great experiences create wonderful memories. We acknowledge that this is the current trend, and as a result, we will welcome a wide selection of international guests to Comic-Con Prague. Fans will be able to meet these guests, take a photo with them or get their autograph. The price of participating in one of these events is, from an actor’s point of view, similar to that of a musician or band performing at a concert. We use the money acquired from group photographs and autographs to fund these visits. This is a technique commonly employed in the West and fans over there are used to it,” concludes Pavel Renčín, Head of Marketing at Active Radio, whose production team, No Limits, is jointly organising the event.

“In addition to a ticket to the festival, fans can also purchase a unique experience with their favourite star through the Comic-Con Prague online shop. Firstly, they must examine the website, select a day, and choose whether they would like a group photo, autograph, or a signed studio photo. Then, in January, guests will be able to choose a specific time slot for when they will be able to enter a designated area. Here, they will not only receive a photo or an autograph for their collection, but they will also have a memorable experience with their favourite star,” explains Václav Pravda, Head of Programming at the festival.

The list of confirmed guests includes Ron Perlman, Brandon Routh, Ian McElhinney, Casper Van Dien, Anna Shaffer, David Nykl, and Predrag Bjelac. Our most famous comic book creators include Marco Turini, Alvaro Martinez, Brian Azzarello, Petr Kopl, and Jonáš Ledecký.
