

Comic-Con Prague 2021 will feature more star guests, but the event moves to a different date

The second edition of Comic-Con Prague will take place from the 7th to the 9th May 2021 in Prague's O2 universum. Today, organisers of the event officially confirmed that the festival will be moved from February to May. All aforementioned star guests have confirmed that they will attend, even with the change of date. Moreover, actress Crystal Reed and actor Sylvester McCoy have confirmed their attendance, as well as comic creators R.M. Guéra, Petr Kopel, Jan Tatarka and Dan Černý.

"Following further consultations with Prague's City Health Station, we have been forced to move Comic-Con to the 7th-9th May. The good news is, however, that confirmed star guests have reiterated that they will be attending, despite the change of date. There is still further work to be done regarding the program. We will be significantly expanding its scope. We are firmly committed to hosting Comic-Con Prague this year. If this attempt does not get the go-ahead, we have another date planned. All tickets will remain valid. Even though we are not legally obliged to do so, we have decided to give fans the option to refund their tickets in the next ten days. This is in case they cannot make the new date. All terms and conditions, and general information, can be found on our website. We thank fans for their ongoing support and for understanding," says Pavel Renčín, Head of Marketing at Active Radio, whose NoLimits division is organising the event.

American actress Crystal Reed has accepted the invitation to attend Comic-Con Prague 2021. Crystal is most famous for playing Allison Argent in the popular TV series Teen Wolf, Sofia Falcone in the TV show Gotham, and Abby Arcane in the TV series Swamp Thing. She also starred in films such as Skyline and Crazy, Stupid, Love. Fans can also look forward to seeing British actor Sylvester McCoy, who is most famous for playing the eccentric wizard Radagast in the Hobbit film trilogy, or the legendary seventh incarnation of The Doctor in one of television's longest-running sci-fi shows: Doctor Who. Organisers have also confirmed that comic creators R. M. Guéra, Petr Kopel, Jan Tatarka, and Dan Černý will attend.

These names join the likes of Christopher Lambert, Julian Glover, Neal McDonough, Edward James Olmos, Hugh Quarshie, Cara Buono, and comic creators Jason Aaron and Francesco Gerbino. All of these star names will be making their way to Prague in May for the pop-culture festival.

Comic-Con Prague 2021 is co-organised by Active Radio a.s. and Comic-Con Prague s.r.o.. Evropa 2 radio is the main media partner of the event. Tickets are available via the Ticketmaster site from 690 Kč. Collectors' tickets and VIP tickets are also on offer. Autographs and photos with star guests can be purchased via Comic-Con Prague's online store.
